The use of such information and records will be limited to purposes directly connected with the administration of the Vocational Rehabilitation program and may not be disclosed directly or indirectly unless the informed consent of the individual is obtained through a signed release. Exceptions to this general rule are noted below and relate to the proper and legal administration of the Vocational Rehabilitation program as required by P.L. 102-569, the CFR, and relevant Idaho law. These policies and procedures prevail over less stringent state laws. (7-1-94)

02. Policies for Storage and Release of Confidential Client Information. (7-1-93)

a. Confidential client information shall be stored in such a manner so that it is not casually available for public scrutiny during official work hours of the Division. It shall be stored under lock and key when not being directly used or during non-working hours. (7-1-93)

200. ELIGIBILITY.

01. Order of Selection. The following order of selection will be used if the Idaho Division of Vocational Rehabilitation finds that it cannot serve all eligible applicants due to a lack of either personnel and/or financial resources. The priority listings progress downward with priority number one being the most restrictive and priority number five being the least restrictive. (2-1-95)

a. Priority #1: At the time that a decision to move to an order of selection is made, it is determined that only those consumers who already have an existing individualized written rehabilitation plan (IWRP) will continue to be served. (2-1-95)

b. Priority #2: At the time that a decision to move to an order of selection is made, it is determined that only those consumers in Priority Number 1 above and current and future, otherwise eligible, applicants rated to this or a more restrictive priority can be served. Consumers meeting this priority rating are those individuals who are defined as most severely disabled. The highest priority for service from among this group shall be public safety officers whose disabling condition arose from a physical, mental, cognitive or sensory impairment sustained in the line of duty. (2-1-95)

c. Priority #3: At the time that a decision to move to an order of selection is made, it is determined that only those consumers in Priorities Numbers 1 and 2 above and current and future, otherwise eligible, applicants rated to this or a more restrictive priority can be served. Consumers meeting this priority rating are those individuals who are defined as severely disabled. The highest priority for service from among this group shall be public safety officers whose disabling condition arose from a physical, mental, cognitive or sensory impairment sustained in the line of duty. (2-1-95)

d. Priority #4: At the time that a decision to move to an order of selection is made, it is determined that only those consumers in Priorities Numbers 1 through 3 above and current and future, otherwise eligible, applicants rated to this or a more restrictive priority can be served. This priority is reserved to non-severely disabled public safety officers whose disabling condition arose from a physical, mental, cognitive or sensory impairment sustained in the line of duty. (2-1-95)

e. Priority #5: All eligible applicants for Vocational Rehabilitation services (no order of selection in place). (2-1-95)

300. CLIENT SERVICES.

01. Provision of Purchased Services Contingent Upon Financial Need of the Recipient. (7-1-93)

a. There is no Federal requirement that the financial need of a person with a disability be considered in the provision of any vocational rehabilitation services. It is allowed at state discretion. With exceptions noted below, the Idaho Division of Vocational Rehabilitation will apply a Financial Needs Assessment in all cases where projected services are expected to be purchased by the Division. Financial need will not be a consideration in the determination of eligibility for Vocational Rehabilitation, but only in allocating the cost of specific services. The Financial Needs Assessment will be applied uniformly as allowed for by the discussion of the process that follows. In all cases the applicant/client of Vocational Rehabilitation shall be allowed to expend their own funds on planned services if they choose to do so - even in those cases where there is no law, or rule, requiring that they do so. (7-1-94)

i. Financial Needs Assessment. The primary mission of the Idaho Division of Vocational Rehabilitation is the return of the Idaho disabled to productive activity - i.e., employment. The identification and proper use of resources is a critical step in achieving this goal. (7-1-93)

ii. Resources generally fall into three (3) major areas: (7-1-93)

(1) Client resources; (7-1-93)

(2) Comparable benefits; and (7-1-94)

(3) Division monies. (7-1-93)

b. It is the position of IDVR that client involvement and client financial participation significantly increase the likelihood of successful rehabilitation. This fact and the reality that Division resources and similar benefits are insufficient to serve all the eligible citizens in Idaho has led IDVR to develop an Individualized Financial Needs Assessment (IFNA). This Individualized Financial Needs Assessment (Form R-52) is to be used by the VRC and the client in conjunction with the development of any IWRP or program Amendment which includes services paid for by IDVR, following the decision of eligibility. (Exception: See IDAPA 47.01.02.300.01.f.). (7-1-94)

c. Client resources and similar benefit resources shall be used prior to IDVR expenditures unless their use would create significant, untimely delay in the provision of services, and thus significantly jeopardize the chances of the success of the rehabilitation outcome. (7-1-93)

d. Client resources are private, and often symbolic of client independence; therefore, it is critical that the VRC be sensitive and wise in the use of these resources. It is not the intention of IDVR to drive the client into abject poverty prior to providing services. In fact, this type of direction could easily be counter-productive to achieving the appropriate vocational rehabilitation goal. However, it is not the intention of the Division, the Legislature, or the taxpayer to support the disabled in areas where they are capable of doing so themselves. To do otherwise would be fiscally irresponsible and in the long run, detrimental to the client's own search for independence. The IDVR counselor is charged with the responsibility of sound rehabilitation planning and guidance of the clients to the achievement of sound rehabilitation goals. This will be accomplished only when there is a thorough understanding of the philosophy, intent, and rules of the Division. As already noted, it is the philosophy of the Division that client participation, both personally and financially, is central to a successful rehabilitation outcome. It is the Division's intent that the VRC become skilled at counseling and guiding the client in the proper use of resources and successful rehabilitation outcomes. However, there are some activities of the Division that, by the rules, preclude the Division from demanding client financial participation. (7-1-93)

f. A financial needs test will not be applied as a condition for providing the following services (clients may volunteer their finances however): (7-1-93)

i. Diagnostics and evaluation of rehabilitation potential; (7-1-93)

- ii. Counseling, guidance, referral; and (7-1-93)
 - iii. Placement. (7-1-93)
 - g. Additionally, the Division has determined that the training cost of OJT placement shall not be applied against the individual client's surplus resources (if any exist) since this is actually a pre-placement activity. None of the above should be construed as to preclude client financial involvement if they should voluntarily choose to participate. Remember: Client involvement significantly increases the chance of success. (7-1-93)
 - h. Once eligibility has been established, the Individualized Financial Needs Assessment (IDVR Form R-52) shall be taken in conjunction with the development of the IWRP or program Amendment, or at any other time the VRC believes that the client's financial status has changed materially. (7-1-94)
02. Allowed Exceptions. (7-1-93)
- a. While all clients can benefit from the completion of the Financial Needs Assessment, common sense interpretation of this requirement suggests that a client who has already demonstrated financial indigence should not be required to report that experience. Therefore, it is not required that an Individualized Financial Needs Assessment be completed on a client receiving Supplemental Security Income (SSI) and Public Assistance. Should a VRC determine not to complete the IFNA in either of these cases, documentation of their beneficiary status is required. Examples of acceptable documentation are SSI and public assistance letter of eligibility; copy of SSA Form 831 or 833 showing receipt of benefits; statement from SSA district office; Disability Determinations Service or Public Assistance office; counselor visual inspection of the SSI or PA benefit check with RCR recording the date of issuance, name as shown on the check and Social Security number on check; SSI verification document; and copy of Health and Welfare financial need document for PA recipients. (7-1-94)
 - b. A second circumstance for which the VRC may choose not to take an IFNA is in the case of the development of a no cost plan. The VRC may judge that the IFNA will not have significant value when there are no financial requirements for either the client or the Division. (7-1-94)
 - i. It should be noted that the VRC may choose to complete an IFNA on these clients if the VRC feels that to do so would enhance the likelihood of a successful rehabilitation outcome. (7-1-93)
 - ii. The use of client resources is called for from a "common sense" perspective, allowed by Federal regulation, and required by state legislative intent; but what does one do when resources available to the client may not be legally controlled by the client? (7-1-94)
 - iii. Utilization of the Parents' or Guardians' Financial Resources in the Development of the Plan or Program Amendment. These are resources that are potentially available to the client but not legally controlled by him/her e.g., a parents' or guardians' resources or financial holdings. Can IDVR demand that a client commit his/her parent's or guardian's income toward the Plan before the Division becomes financially involved? The answer is No! (7-1-98)
 - iv. In cases where the VRC determines that the client has not been emancipated from the parents or guardians, and through a financial assessment determines that the client's only potential excess resources are legally the parents or guardians, then the VRC will explain our IFNA requirements to the parent/guardian and complete a thorough IFNA on them (assuming they agree to complete one). (7-1-94)
 - v. Any excess resources isolated from the parent/guardian IFNA will be considered as potentially available to pay for planned services. However, since the client does not legally control these resources, the VRC cannot deny a service based solely upon a parent's or guardian's unwillingness to pay. Therefore, the VRC should negotiate to the best interest of the Division in determining the level of participation by the parent or guardian. Remember, when a client is a minor, the parents or guardians have certain legal obligations, and the VRC will not assist them in avoiding these obligations by offering Division financial assistance when the IFNA does not indicate the need for this assistance. The parent/guardian IFNA, negotiations on the utilization of excess resources, and the parent's or guardian's refusal to contribute shall be duly noted in the case file of the client (RCR). In short, when a client has not become emancipated from his/her parents or guardians, the parents' or guardians' financial status will be investigated through the completion of an IFNA unless they refuse. Any refusal shall be noted in the RCR. (7-1-94)

vi. Excess resources of the client's parents or guardians shall be considered as a similar benefit to the client at whatever level the source of these similar benefits makes them available (0-100%). The VRC shall negotiate to the best interest of the Division. (7-1-93)

c. The VRC will not shoulder the responsibility of paying for things that are the legal responsibility of the parents/guardians regarding their minor child (the client). (7-1-93)

d. Failure of the parents/guardians to contribute shall not be used as reason to preclude services to the client since the client cannot legally control the disbursement of these "similar benefits". (7-1-93)

e. All negotiations and their resultant outcomes will be recorded in the RCR. (7-1-93)

f. The VRC shall, in all cases, present the IFNA philosophy to the parents or guardians in a positive light so that they do not assume that the VRC is urging them to not participate. (7-1-93)

g. Resources legally controlled by the client will be used prior to IDVR financial involvement. Resources legally controlled by the parents or guardians - i.e., beyond the control of the client - will be used to the degree that they are made available by the parents or guardians. (7-1-93)

h. Additionally, in those cases where clients have established independence from their parents/guardians, but the parents/guardians are willing to contribute, the VRC should encourage their contribution on a "first dollar" basis. Remember, the goal of the VRC is to foster independence, allow the client to practice independence to the fullest extent possible, and assist the client where they do not have the capacity to do for themselves, through the use of similar benefits and Division resources.

03. Authorization for Services. The Division requires that when purchasing services from a vendor, an authorization must be issued prior to, or in concert with, the beginning date of service. If services are provided without a Division approved authorization, the Division reserves the right to not honor the vendor's invoice. Exception: A verbal authorization may be issued only by an assistant regional manager, regional manager, chief of field services or the administrator. A verbal authorization must be followed, as soon as possible, with a written authorization. (7-1-98)

301. -- 499. (RESERVED).

500. SERVICES FOR WHICH IDAHO DIVISION OF VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION FINANCIAL PARTICIPATION WILL NOT BE AVAILABLE.

01. General Provisions. The applicant/client will not be eligible for financial participation through the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation for any diagnostic, evaluation, or remedial service that does not clearly, directly or indirectly, contribute to the determination of eligibility or to employment. (7-1-94)

02. Private Pilot's License. The Division of Vocational Rehabilitation will not financially participate in the securing of a private pilot's license for an otherwise eligible recipient. The Division may, subject to constraints imposed by sound career counseling and its Financial Needs Assessment financially assist an otherwise eligible recipient in securing a Commercial Pilot's License. (7-1-93)

03. Graduate or Advanced Degree. It is the policy of the state unit that financial assistance to secure an Advanced or Graduate Degree for an otherwise eligible recipient will not be available. The sole exception to this rule is when it can be conclusively demonstrated that the only possible way to re-enter employment is through the securing of this Advanced or Graduate Degree, and that barriers to achieving the Advanced Degree rest solely upon barriers created by the recipient's disability(ies). (7-1-94)

04. Vehicular Purchase. State unit financial assistance will not be available for the purchase of a vehicle for the private use of an otherwise eligible recipient. For the purpose of this rule, "vehicle" is defined as any conveyance that must be licensed by the state of Idaho in order to be operated on state highways, roads, streets, and waterways. (Included within this definition are: cars, trucks, vans, motorcycles, and boats of various sizes and description). Nothing in this rule should be construed as ruling out the possible use of Division funds to enable the otherwise eligible recipient to render an already owned vehicle accessible for their use (i.e., hand controls, van conversions, and installation of lifts.). However, such add-on equipment which does not become an integral part of the vehicle shall remain under the ownership of the state unit until such time as the state unit determines that it is prudent to release its interest. (7-1-93)

05. Medical Restoration. Financial participation will not be available for surgical and other medical restoration services if it is, in and of itself, the sole service needed for an otherwise eligible recipient to return to employment. Medical services may be provided if: (7-1-94)

a. Its provision is a material part of a larger, more comprehensive Vocational Rehabilitation Plan of services designed to assist the individual in their return to employment; and if (7-1-94)

b. Its provision will materially affect the success or failure of the more centrally planned Vocational Rehabilitation services; and if (7-1-94)

c. The medical services are needed to offset the effects of a medical problem arising after eligibility for Vocational Rehabilitation has been established, and failure to provide for the needed services will materially reduce the chances of successful pursuit of the more comprehensive Plan. (7-1-94)

06. Organ Transplantation. With the exception of Renal Transplantation as authorized by Titles 33-2307 and 33-2308, Idaho Code, all other forms of transplantation shall be reviewed with an eye towards Section 5 of this rule; and (7-1-93)

a. The procedure must be defined clearly as a usual and customary procedure. The state unit will rely on the medical judgment of its medical consultant in these cases; and (7-1-93)

b. The benefit to the client in terms of working life and earning capacity will be expected to off-set the cost of the transplantation and related medical services. (7-1-93)

07. Services to Non-Residents of the State. Financial participation will not be available to non-residents of Idaho. However, with the exception of the Renal Disease Program, no durational requirements will be placed upon individuals who move into the state. Citizenship is not a requisite for financial assistance; however, the individual must have legal resident status (i.e., illegal aliens will not be eligible for the Vocational Rehabilitation programs or for the Renal Disease Program). To be eligible for and receive financial assistance under the state's End Stage Renal Disease Program, applying individuals must live within the state for twelve (12) consecutive months, or be on record as having been a permanent resident of the state and their reason for current external residency is a function of military obligation or temporary business assignments, or they, their spouse, parent or guardian must show proof of employment or an offer thereof in the state prior to moving to the state.

600. POLICY ON PROVISION OF SERVICES.

Purchase of Work Evaluation, Work Adjustment, Community Based Job Placement and Job Coaching, and Placement and Follow-Along Services. (7-1-93)

01. General Provisions. The Idaho Division of Vocational Rehabilitation will purchase subject services only from duly certified, licensed, or accredited firms, businesses, facilities, or individuals. The definition of subject services will be those established by the Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities (CARF). Facilities, businesses or firms wishing to sell the subject services to the Division must show appropriate certification, accreditation, or licensure. Those facilities, businesses or entities holding CARF (or comparable) accreditation will receive priority recognition. (7-1-94)

700. USE OF CHIROPRACTIC SERVICES.

It is the policy of the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation that eligibility for the Vocational Rehabilitation Program must be contingent upon (among other things) the medical documentation of the existence of a disability(ies) and a comprehensive study of the basic general health of the applicant for services. (7-1-94)

01. Medical Documentation. Chiropractic exams will not suffice in meeting the medical documentation required for eligibility purposes. (7-1-93)

02. Chiropractic Exams. Chiropractic exams may be purchased as part of a larger medical assessment of eligibility if there is a clear and present reason for doing so. Additionally, chiropractic exams may be purchased in the process of investigating the possible rehabilitation benefits that may accrue from the manual manipulation to correct barriers to employment or independent living which may arise from the subluxation condition of the spine. Chiropractic treatment may provide useful therapy for acute or chronic musculoskeletal disorders and with proper medical recommendation, may be included as a part of the vocational plan of the client.
