(7-1-93)

i. Each year of undergraduate study in the geological sciences shall count as one-half (1/2) year of training up to a maximum of two (2) years, and each year of graduate study or research counts as a year of training. (7-1-93)

ii. Teaching in the geological sciences at the college level shall be credited year for year toward meeting the requirement in this category, provided that the total annual teaching experience includes six (6) semester units of third or fourth year or graduate courses. (7-1-93)

iii. Credit for undergraduate study, graduate study, and teaching individually, or in any combination thereof, shall in no case exceed a total of four (4) years toward meeting the requirement for at least seven (7) years of professional geological work as set forth above. (7-1-93)

04. Scope of Examination. The scope of the examination and the methods of procedure shall be prescribed by the board with special reference to the applicant's ability to supervise geologic projects as to insure the safety of life, health and property. The complete professional examination for registration as a professional geologist consists of two separate written examinations. The first is the Fundamentals of Geology examination, satisfactory completion of which permits certification as a Geologist-in-Training, covering subjects as are ordinarily given in college curricula. The second is the Principles and Practice of Geology examination which will cover the practice of geology and test the applicant's fitness for such practice affecting the public health, safety and welfare. Each examination shall be not more than eight (8) hours (one (1) day) in length, divided into four-hour (4) morning and afternoon sessions. Normally, applicants are eligible to take the Fundamentals of Geology examination upon graduation from an accredited college curriculum. Having passed the Fundamentals of Geology examination, applicants will be assigned to take the Principles and Practice examination at a later date when qualified by experience. Applicants qualified by experience to take the Principles and Practice examination, but who have not previously passed the Fundamentals of Geology examination, may take both examinations on succeeding days. The Fundamentals of Geology examination given to recent college graduates need not be the same as the Fundamentals of Geology examination given to applicants who have completed the experience requirement for registration. An oral examination, in addition to the prescribed written examination, may be required of any applicant. (7-1-93)

05. Geologist-In-Training. An applicant may be permitted to take the Fundamentals of Geology examination prior to his completion of the years of geologic experience required for registration, as provided for in the act. Upon such satisfactory passage of the Fundamentals of Geology examination, the board shall issue a certificate of completion for this portion of the complete professional examination - with designation of the applicant as a Geologist-In-Training. Such certificate of completion shall constitute a credit toward the applicant's complete professional examination for a period not to exceed ten (10) years. The Geologist-In-Training, upon completion of the required years of geologic experience for registration, may submit a record of such experience in a complete application to the board and, upon approval by the board, be assigned to take the Principles and Practice examination. The possession of a Geologist-In-Training certificate by an applicant does not entitle the applicant to practice professional geology under the appropriate provisions of the act. (7-1-93)

06. Reexamination. A candidate failing his first examination may apply for reexamination at the expiration of six (6) months without filing a new application and shall be entitled to such reexamination on payment of an additional examination fee of fifty dollars ($50). A candidate who fails on reexamination must file a new application before he can again be admitted to examination, and such new application shall not be filed prior to one (1) year following the date of the last examination taken by the applicant; provided, however, that it shall be unlawful for a candidate failing any examination to practice professional geology under the appropriate provisions of the act. (7-1-93)

07. Time and Place. (7-1-93)

a. The regular written examination for registration as a professional geologist shall be conducted annually between January 1 and March 31. (7-1-93)

b. The secretary shall make all arrangements necessary to provide sufficient help to conduct examinations and to provide adequate facilities at such locations throughout the state as may be required to accommodate the number of applicants to be examined. (7-1-93)

08. Examination Irregularities. (7-1-93)

a. Examinees are forbidden to receive any unauthorized assistance during the examination. Communication between examinees or possession of unauthorized matter or devices during the examination is strictly prohibited. (7-1-93)

b. Only scheduled examinees, board members, the assistant secretary and authorized examination personnel shall be admitted to the examination room. (7-1-93)

09. Grading. (7-1-93)

a. As indicated in Subsection 300.04, the entire professional examination for registration as a professional geologist consists of two (2) separate written examinations. These examinations are referred to as the (1) Fundamentals of Geology, and (2) Principles and Practices examinations. Licensure as a professional geologist requires successful passage, as defined below, of both of these examinations. (7-1-93)

b. Every applicant receiving an overall grade of seventy percent (70%) or more on the Fundamentals of Geology examination shall be deemed to have passed the examination, is thereby eligible to take the Principles and Practices examination, and will receive certification as a Geologist-in-Training, provided that the required fees have been paid. (7-1-93)

c. Every applicant receiving a grade of seventy percent (70%) or more on each part of the Principles and Practices examination shall be deemed to have passed such examination and will be registered as a professional geologist, provided that all of the required fees have been paid. (7-1-93)

d. Every applicant receiving a grade of less than seventy percent (70%) on either the Fundamentals of Geology examination or on any part of the Principles and Practices examination, shall be deemed to have failed such examination. Every applicant having failed shall have his application denied without prejudice, but shall be allowed to retake the failed examination in accordance with Subsection 300.06. (7-1-93)

10. Inspection of Examination. (7-1-93)

a. An applicant who fails to obtain a passing grade in the written examination may inspect his examination papers at such times and locations as may be designated by the secretary. Inspection of such examination papers shall be permitted within a thirty-day (30) period after receipt of notice by the applicant of his failure to pass the examination. (7-1-93)

b. At the time of inspection, no one other than the examinee or his attorney and a representative of the board shall have access to such examination papers. (7-1-93)

11. Examination Appeal. (7-1-93)

a. Within thirty (30) days after the date notice of the results of the examination has been mailed to him, an applicant who was unsuccessful in the examination may appeal, by petition, to the board for a review of his examination papers. (7-1-93)

b. The petition for review shall be made in writing stating the reason for such appeal and citing the item or items against which the request is directed. (7-1-93)

c. The board shall, upon receiving such petition for review, conduct a hearing in accordance with the applicable provisions of Title 67, Chapter 52, Idaho Code. (7-1-93)

12. Retention of Examinations. The board shall retain for at least one (1) year, all written examination papers submitted by applicants. (7-1-93)
