WHEREAS, on March 13, 2020, when the first case of COVID-19 was confirmed in Idaho, I issued a proclamation declaring a state of emergency in the State of Idaho pursuant to Chapter 10, Title 46, Idaho Code, due to the occurrence and imminent threat to public health and safety arising from the effects of COVID-19; and

WHEREAS, on March 13, 2020, President Trump declared a national emergency due to the outbreak of COVID-19 in the United States, and on April 9, 2020, President Trump declared a major disaster in the State of Idaho, allowing for additional federal assistance to aid in recovery efforts related to COVID-19; and

WHEREAS, these enhanced federal unemployment benefits are due to expire on July 31, 2020, emphasizing the need to help unemployed Idahoans return to work before then; and

WHEREAS, it is crucial to Idaho's response to and recovery from the impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic that Idahoans return to work as soon as possible and that Idaho employers have the workforce needed to rebound from the economic downturn caused by the COVID-19 pandemic; and

WHEREAS, Idaho employers report trouble getting employees to return to work/or various reasons; and

WHEREAS, meaningful work not only provides financial support to Idahoans and Idaho family, it provides useful on-the-job training and experience, and strengthens one's spirit, self-worth, and contribution to this great state's success; and

WHEREAS, the Coronavirus Financial Advisory Committee (CFAC) convened on June 17, 2020, and determined that, in its judgment, expenditures for the Return-to-Work bonus program met the U.S. Treasury guidance for state, territorial, and tribal governments on the proper uses of the Coronavirus Relief Fund and found this use to be necessary to provide economic support to aid in Idaho's recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic;

WHEREAS, I agree with the conclusions of CFAC and find that the Idaho Return-to-Work bonus program is necessary to Idaho's response to and recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic;
